

What is a residential college?

A Residential College is the best place for you to stay if you are moving away from home to study. They provide you with secure accommodation and all meals in a community where there is support, an organised social program and facilities to enable you to focus on your studies and make friends. You will have your own bedroom with shared bathrooms and laundry facilities.

Discover the Raymont difference

Established in 1944, RAYMONT has a wonderful history of supporting students from predominantly regional communities in the pursuit of their tertiary academic or other studies. We have students that go to all four of the major universities plus a number of other tertiary education and training institutions. Many students have lived, studied and grown up at RAYMONT, leaving with many fond memories of their time here. As we have transitioned from being Raymont Lodge to Raymont Residential College, our vision remains to enrich the personal, spiritual and academic development of our tertiary students within a caring, fun community built on Christian values that enables them to flourish.

This is achieved through our staff and Student Leadership Team (SLT) who take an active interest in helping new students to make new friends, transition from home and school to living and learning in a tertiary environment. This is supported by having all meals provided so that residents can spend more time focusing on their studies rather than having to look after themselves, having programs like our "Flourishing at University" series that gives them some good advice on healthy relationships, healthy minds and how to best achieve academic success. Residents have access to tutorials, social sporting teams, organised social activities, Christian fellowship and a Leadership Certificate course.

On behalf of all the staff and students at RAYMONT, I would like to encourage you to find out more about Raymont by speaking to current or past students, check out our website or better still, come and visit us, take a tour of the college. You are most welcome to become part of the RAYMONT community.
